"PREPARED BY AND FOR THE WALT DISNEY WORLD CAST"

FEBRUARY 19, 1982

IT'S NO LONGER, "WATER, WATER, EVERYWHERE"

Last May, Central Florida developed a new attraction ... located in downtown Winter Park, an enormous sinkhole consumed a house, several cars, a parking lot, and the deep end of a swimming pool. So far, thousands of people have gazed with amazement at this natural sign of warning, telling us that the Earth's internal water level is dangerously low.

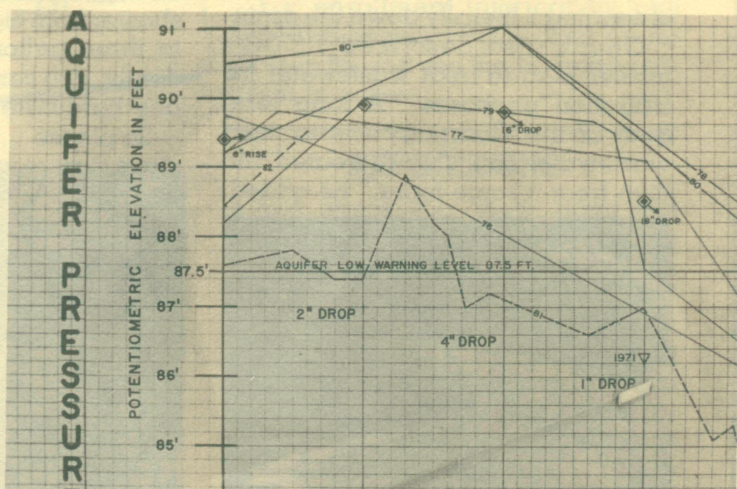

Among the sinkhole gazers are a group who were not surprised when the cave-in occurred. This group of experts were aware of the water's low level and they knew that when that level drops, so does the internal water pressure, making conditions prime for the ground to sink. Chuck Burdick, Manager/Water and Waste at RCUC and our company's expert on water supply and usage, had been following and charting the water level at that time. He explained that on the WDW property, an elevation of 90 feet above means sea level is considered normal; 87.5 feet is the concern point, and the water level has been measured as low as 84.3 feet. This low, charted in April, continued through the month, and within a few weeks, the outbreak of sinkholes occurred across Central Florida.

Many of us don't think of water in terms of a "limited supply" commodity. There's always plenty of it running from the tap when we want to brush our teeth or make a cup of coffee. There's plenty to swim in or shower in. In fact, the most stringent restrictions we've had concerning recent water usage merely limited the hours when we could water our lawns and wash our cars ... but still, there was plenty of it then.

However, the time has come to change this school of thought. Due to the increasing water demands of Florida's growing population and to the decrease of rainfall over the past several years, our once plentiful water supply is fast becoming a precious commodity that we cannot afford to waste. By the year 2000, experts predict that Americans will use the ground water supply provided by Mother Nature's rainfalls plus 800 billion gallons ... that's 272 Bay Lakes and Seven Seas lagoons combined!

THE WDW PLAN

"With all this in mind, we took a look at ourselves as a company to determine ways to cut down water usage and to eliminate wasteful practices," Chuck explained. So he outlined for us a water conservation program now in operation at WDW, which consists of both supply and demand management for our future water supply.

Water pressure on the WDW property is charted monthly along with the water level of Bay Lake.

Supply Management

Helping maintain our water supply involves three major parts: metering, leak detection and repair, and pressure reduction.

Although metering won't reduce our actual consumption, installing and reading meters will allow us to keep track of how much water we do use and where we use it. "If we notice an area consuming a large amount of water, we will try to find out why," Chuck explained.

Leaks within the water system use a great deal of water unnecessarily. According to the program, we'll quickly repair any leaks, saving many gallons of water.

The third phase of supply management, pressure reduction, involves decreasing the water flowing through the pipes. To conserve water, RCUC has reduced our water pressure from 100 pounds per square inch (psi) to 80 psi. Because it will be necessary to increase water pressure to 90-100 psi when Epcot Center opens this fall, pressure reduction valves will be installed at key points in the system where high water pressure isn't needed for fire protection.

The Snowshoe Ski trip leaves next Tuesday, and you can go! See page 5 for details!

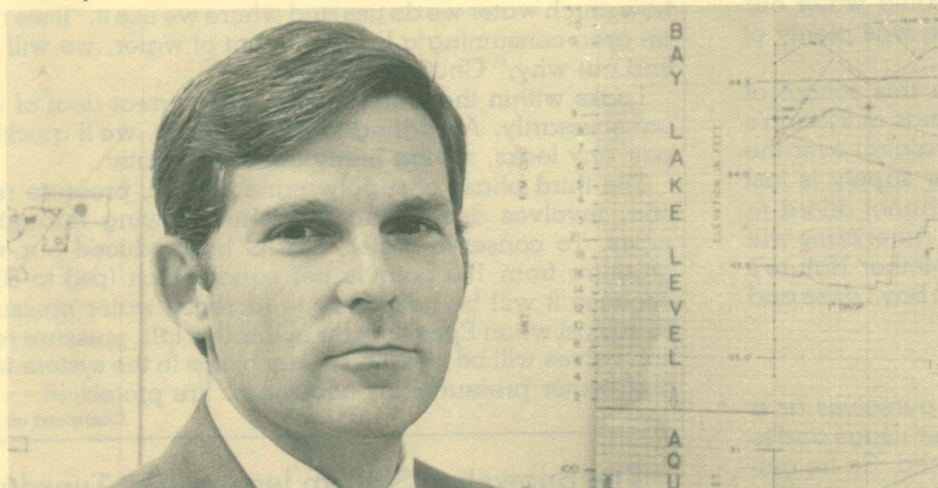

The second part of our water conservation program, demand management, is where your efforts can help! Chuck explained that RCUC conducted a survey pinpointing areas of the company where water is currently being used unnecessarily. The survey results designated seven major categories and dozens of locations where water could be conserved, saving approximately 500,000 gallons of water per day.

Identifying the problem areas solves only half the problem, and therefore the crusade to eliminate water wastage is now underway. Leaks are being repaired, decorative fountains will be shut down when the Magic Kingdom is closed, and in areas not needing fresh water supplies, RCUC will install closed loop systems to reuse water instead of sending it literally down the drain.

Chuck also described RCUC's master plan to treat wastewater for irrigation purposes. "A long term goal of the Company's is to treat wastewater until it's 99% treated and then treat it some more," he added.

A proposal to install this 75¢ water saving device in bathroom fixtures across our property is now underway.

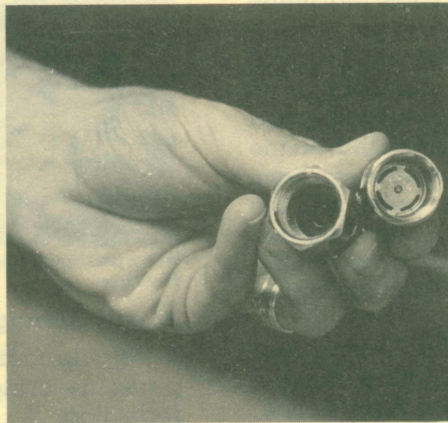

Chuck Burdick

SAVING WATER IS A FULL-TIME JOB

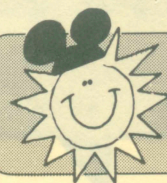

Above all else, Chuck emphasized that we need your help . . . if you see a leaky faucet, report it! If you're working with a hose, don't lay it down and leave the water running. Even the old "brick in the water closet" applies; the space consumed by the brick's presence in the tank would have been filled with water, water that would soon be wasted if the brick wasn't there. Be creative in your water conservation ideas!

Another major water-saving idea that we've incorporated on WDW property could be used in your home. The Reedy Creek Improvement District is preparing legislation requiring the installation of water restrictive devices in bathroom fixtures. According to Chuck, "these devices reduce the water flow in your shower from eight gallons per minute to three gallons per minute." Incidentally, you can find these gadgets at any hardware store for about 75¢.

So please . . . be on the lookout for ways to save water both at home and at work. And remember, saving water is your full-time job!

You could install several other water conserving in your home. These types are available at local hardware stores and are very inexpensive.

ENERGY & YOU

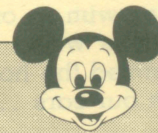

CAULK IS CHEAP

Caulking is an inexpensive yet effective way to save energy. By sealing cracks with caulk, you can keep out summer heat and winter cold (and pesky Florida bugs). So check the places listed below for possible air leaks, and caulk if needed.

- Around window frames and sills (except at drain holes of window sills)
- Around door frames
- Between the wall and box behind electrical plug and switch covers. (You can also install inexpensive gaskets precut to fit behind the covers. Be sure to turn off the electrical power at the fuse or circuit breaker box before you take off the cover to caulk or install the gasket.)
- At corners of the house where siding is joined.
- Where porches or additions meet the main body of the house.
- At sills where the siding meets the foundation.
- Where the chimney or masonry meets the siding.
- Where piping (water faucets, dryer vent, exhaust fan, air-conditioner condensor unit, or others) or wiring penetrates siding or masonry.

More information on low-cost (and no-cost) energy savers is available by writing: SAVE IT AT HOME, Governor's Energy Office, The Capitol, Tallahassee, Florida 32301.

Energy Is Everything . . . Save it, Florida.

MOUSELLANEOUS

FREE SEMINAR TO VETERANS

A free seminar on veterans benefits will be held at Jones College, 1505 East Colonial Drive on February 27, at 9:30 a.m. Representatives from the Florida State Employment Service, DAV, and VFW organizations, and the Veterans Administration will be there to answer any questions you may have. To reserve a seat, call 896-2407, extension 28.

GERMANY GETS A TASTE OF DISNEY MAGIC

The Kids of the Kingdom dazzled thousands of Germans with their Disney Medley Show during the recent target market tour of the Rhineland. Visiting the major cities in the country, the Kids jumped right over the language barrier with their Disney magic and a little help from an audiovisual presentation in German, not to mention a few of our characters and a handful of crew members.

While in Frankfurt, they even entertained a large group of American soldiers and their families stationed there, providing some recreation from "back home."

TIME CHANGES FOR KINDER CARE

Beginning February 22, Kinder Care will change operating hours to close one hour after the Magic Kingdom. Due to the constant changes, a schedule of their hours will be posted continuously at the Kinder Care Center, located on the south side of the Admin entrance. However, if a minimum of 16 children enroll during evening hours, the Center will extend their operating hours to accommodate your child.

Kinder Care has immediate openings during the evening hours for children aged 2 to 5. At the Center, your child receives a full range of stimulating activities designed to challenge and motivate him mentally, physically, emotionally, and socially.

For enrollment information, call 827-KIDS between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. Or stop by and see the learning program in action.

500 GALLONS

It took almost that much paint and many hours of manpower, but the new paint job on the tunnel looks great, doesn't it? The fresh layers of lavender, green, orange, blue, brown, and red, white, and blue left our noses tingling for a few days, but Chuck Swink of Building Maintenance informs us that the project is 95% complete. The painters will be out again around Easter to finish up, so be on the lookout for them!

Gene Clayton dabs some final touches on trimwork in the tunnel.

Baldwin Scott is seeing green, but not from envy! It's the new coat of paint on the walls near the Bargain Basement, which looks brand new thanks to him and the rest of the Building Maintenance crew.

DISNEY LAUNCHES NEW SERIES, "HERBIE, THE LOVE BUG"

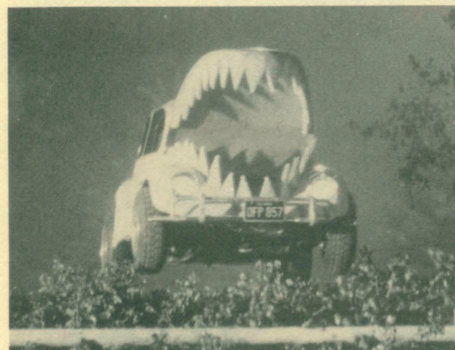

"Herbie, The Love Bug," a new one-hour television series from Walt Disney Productions, will make its debut on Wednesday, March 17, at 8 p.m. on CBS/Channel 6.

The new show, based on the highly successful motion picture series about Herbie, the Volkswagen, with a mind of its own, stars Dean Jones in the role he originated in "The Love Bug."

Also starring are Patricia Harty, Richard Paul, Claudia Wells, Nicky Katt, and Douglas Emerson. Larry Linville guest stars in the first four episodes.

"Herbie" marks Disney's first nonanthology series since "Zorro" in 1959, and the first series in the comedy/fantasy genre.

"Herbie, The Love Bug" is being produced by Kevin Corcoran for executive producer William Robert Yates.

"It Takes People"

Overcoming obstacles has become a way of life for Mike Pechin, a machinist apprentice in the Show Department in our Central Shops. Known to everyone as "Peach," he's currently in the middle of his four-year apprenticeship program, helping create the audio-animatronic figures for the Mexican pavilion in Epcot Center, among other things.

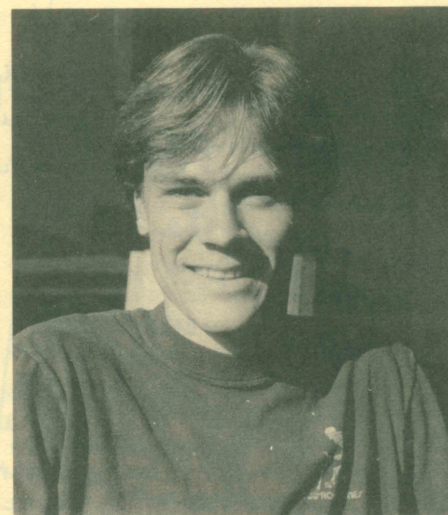

He's traveled a long trail at WDW since joining the cast in 1974 as a Food and Beverage Host. He's also worked in Monorails and Internal Transportation before transferring to Characters in 1976. While posing as Goofy, Tigger, and Baloo and performing in the Character Parade, Peach had an idea.

At the time, roller skating was becoming very popular, and Peach had become interested. He wanted to incorporate his work and his talent . . . to become a skating character. His supervisors and managers liked the idea, so Peach trained himself and his fellow cast members and organized their performance, and soon there were skating clowns in the Character Parade. "The first time I tried skating with the costume on, I was terrified!" he admitted, adding that after awhile skating over the street car tracks "is a breeze . . . you don't even notice them."

You might also remember seeing him in our special Christmas program as the double jointed and floppy Raggedy Andy.

Meanwhile, Peach skated in demonstrations across the state, and as far away as New York City and California, and before too long he held two state championship titles in Florida.

During the time he spent in Characters, he injured his shoulder, requiring a doctor to surgically insert a 2-inch screw there.

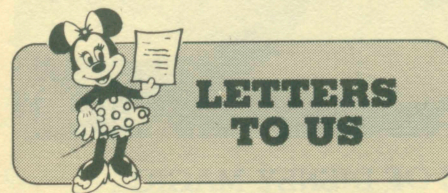

But that didn't stop him from skating once his arm healed. "My doctors are amazed that I'm able to maintain my activity."

He quickly resumed his skating schedule and was offered a position on a special team that would travel all over the country. Tempted with this opportunity, he finally decided to stay at WDW, saying, "I felt I'd rather learn something, like my present job, because I've always had a mechanical background."

So he transferred to the Central Shops with the understanding that he could return to Characters on an "on loan basis, which is quite a nice situation," according to Peach.

Looking back, Peach believes that he did the right thing by staying at WDW, but he still skates 20 hours per week, performing demonstrations all over the state with the team that he founded and now coaches. "I love it, but when it came down to skating versus staying here, I just didn't want to leave," he concluded.

It seems as if I have said thanks again and again for the beautiful dish gardens you have sent to me every time I go to the hospital. I hope and pray this new year will be the finish of my hospital trips. Thanks for your good wishes and prayers.

Doris Christopher

Words and feelings take on new meanings when a person is confined. The love, prayers, visits, and the beautiful plants were really an encouragement during my recent surgery and the recovery at home. Everything that was done to help my recovery is appreciated more than you'll ever know.

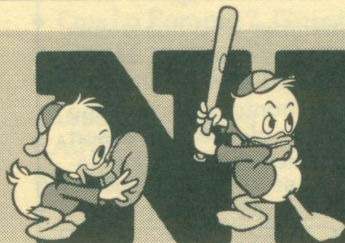

Thank you all,
Marian Bivens

Dear Cast Members,

I want to thank you all very much for the beautiful dish garden which you sent me while I was in the hospital.

CAST ACTIVITIES

NEWS

CALLING ALL SURVIVORS FOR THE 1982 ST. PAT'S ROAD RACE

Begorra and Bejabbers, whatever that means; it's not too many moons over Galway Bay until this Annual Road Race will be upon us. It will, it will that

... So all of you lads and lassies should come "on Shank's mare" to your offices of Cast Activities, that is, sign up now for this great event that marshalls in the spring, and at the same time, rids the woods and glens around Little Lake Bryan of snakes. (Tis a snake-stomping event, tis that.)

And funny you should ask; yes, if you survive the four miles you receive your very own "Survivor's" Kelly Green T-shirt, embossed with a Shamrock (what else?).

True, it's after the great date of March 17, but it's the closest date to a Saturday when more of our employees are free to run.

It only costs you two pounds sterling plus (that's $5 American), and it includes trophies for the first three places and ribbons for the next three places in all divisions. We have more divisions to compete in this year, we do. Also, all finishers will munch on a post-race brunch while waiting for the results to be computed and the trophy presentation by the Grand Marshall of the event, our new Ambassador, Jeanne Thiele, who will wear the green for the event.

Our "Survivor's" shirt and meet information and a map, yet, are now on display at Cast Activities, The Center, so scurry on over and sign up now. And practice over the four-mile course any weekend between 10 a.m. and dusk.

SNOWSHOE SKI TRIP HAS OPENINGS

Cast Activities is kicking off 1982 with a fantastic ski trip to Snowshoe Ski Resort in West Virginia. This four-day excursion features three full days on the slopes and will be the only ski trip offered this winter.

Snowshoe is somewhat of an unusual ski resort, in that the condominiums, shops, and nightclubs are located on top of the mountain, with all ski trails leading down! Our accommodations are right in the middle of the village ... walk out the door and you're right on the slopes!

But what about the skiing? Snowshoe has a vertical drop of 1,500 feet, twice the height of North Carolina's Beech Mountain. The mountain is serviced by five ski lifts offering access to 21 trails of varying degrees of difficulty. One trail alone ... Cupp Run ... approaches a mile and a half in length, one of the longest continuous vertical drops in the East. Jean Claude Killy, the Olympic Gold Medalist, called Cupp Run one of his 12 favorite runs in the world.

Here's a brief itinerary and costs:

- Departure from Orlando will be Tuesday, February 23, at 9 p.m. You'll travel overnight aboard a chartered bus, arriving at Snowshoe at noon, Wednesday. After checking into our condominiums, you have the afternoon and evening to explore the village and clubs.

- You'll have lift tickets for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Ski lessons are available on the mountain, but are not included in the package.

- You'll spend Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights in a deluxe condominium, with the cost based on two people per room, six people per condominium. Each condo features a full kitchen with utensils, balcony, and fireplace.

- Departure will be early Saturday evening following skiing, with arrival back in Orlando, Sunday morning, February 28.

This year, there are two packages available:

- Transportation, accommodations, and lift tickets — $242.

- Transportation, accommodations, lift tickets and rental skis — $270.

There are still seats available and you may sign up in either the main Cast Activities (The Center) or at the Walt Disney World Village Cast Activities. This trip is open to employees and their guests, with no limit on number of guests.

A $50 deposit is required when making a reservation.

Space will be limited, so all reservations will be on a first-come-first-served basis. For additional information, please call Jill Krotky or Dent Thompson in Cast Activities at 824-4254.

ICE SKATING PARTY NEXT FRIDAY

Calling all skaters. Here's your chance to pretend it is winter even though it is 70° outside. Come to Cast Activities Ice Skating Party next Friday, February 26, from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m. at the Orlando Ice Skating Palace at Parkwood Plaza.

A special discount is offered to all cast members and their families at this special Walt Disney World ice skating party. Admission is only $3 per person with free skate rentals. Don't forget to present your WDW ID at the door.

And remember to dress for cold weather because it's only 40° at the rink!

SAVE FUEL ... VANPOOL

How would you like to cut your transportation costs drastically? Who wouldn't? At Cast Activities, we're sure that there are plenty of ways you'd rather spend money than on gasoline and car maintenance. And we have the solution for your transportation cost woes ... VANPOOL!

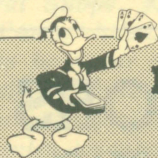

Another enticing feature of vanpooling besides saving money ... someone else drives so you can read the newspaper or finish your morning routine.

Currently there are seats open in the following vanpools:

- Van #1 — from St. Cloud/Kissimmee, Monday through Friday from 6 a.m.-2 p.m.
- Van #4 — from Pine Hills/Turkey Lake Plaza, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
- Van #7 — from Sky Lake South/Sand Lake Road, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
- Van #8 — from Pine Hills, seven days a week from midnight to 8 a.m.
- Van #9 — from the Naval Training Center/College Park area, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Call Debbie at Cast Activities, extension 4254, for more information. Don't delay on this simple way to save money!

Any cast member who has a current Advanced Lifesaving certificate and would like to work at either River Country or one of the resort marinas, please call Resort Training at extension 5424 for details.

LASERWORLD DISCOUNT COUPONS AVAILABLE

Cast Activities now has the Laserworld Discount Card available to all cast members. This card will entitle cast members and their families to a 20% discount off regular admission prices at the box office. Laserworld is now open with a new show located in the heart of Orlando at 46 N. Orange Avenue. Discount cards also will be available at all Cast Activities Satellites.

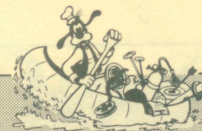

EMPLOYEE SALE SET FOR FEBRUARY 24

Property Control gears up for their next Employee Sale Wednesday, February 24, from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. They'll have sliding glass doors discounted 50 percent and you might bid on several 35mm cameras. They'll even have some livestock, not to mention all the regular items.

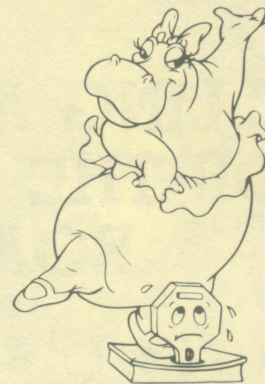

Also, if you're looking for carpet, Property Control will sell it each day from 3:30 to 4 p.m., when it's available.

Please remember that Property Control offers the Employee Sale for WDW cast members and their spouses only, and not for dependent children, friends, or other relatives. All spouses must present a Main Gate Pass and another valid ID. These items are intended for private use and not for resale. Property Control may limit items that are high in demand and low in quantity.

SPORTS, CLUBS & SPECIAL EVENTS

THE DIET WORKSHOP STARTS UP

Here is your chance to get in shape permanently. The Diet Workshop offers a safe, sensible, four-point plan which includes: nutritional information so you can eat smart, a diet and exercise plan that is easy to follow, and behavior modification that will change your life and keep you feeling well and looking good. The class only has a few spaces left — so sign up for this 10 week session for $39. All classes will meet on Tuesdays from 6 to 7 p.m. The class starts on February 23.

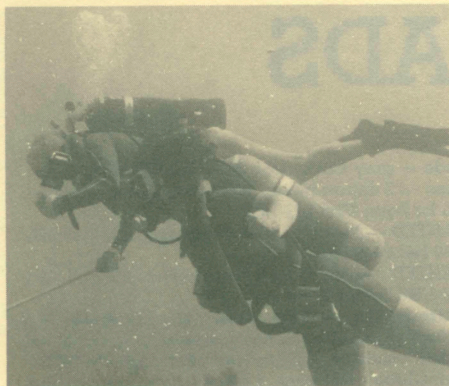

SPORTSMAN'S FISHERMEN TO MEET

The next meeting for the fishermen is scheduled for March 6 at 7 p.m. R and R Tackle shop is the site, located on Crystal Lake Drive and Curry Ford Road — beside the Pizza Hut.

All cast members and their families are welcome to attend and learn more about this branch of the Sportsman Association. The group has tournaments monthly with prizes. Yearly events include spouse tournaments, father/son and father/daughter tournaments to name a few.

The next tournament date is set for March 13 — a boat tournament on West Lake Toho. Starting positions and signup fees will be taken care of at the March 6 meeting, or sign up in Cast Activities now. Also, R and R Tackle offers all Sportsman's Association members a 10% discount on tackle and 5% off rods and reels. See you on March 6.

DIVE CLUB

• March 1 — Our regular Club meeting features Glenn Miller from Ft. Lauderdale, who will show movies about his 95-foot dive boat and discuss proposed Bahamas trips.

• March 20-21 — We'll be in Pompano Beach for a dive. Only $45 includes four dives, 2 air fills, lodging, dinner on Saturday night and breakfast Sunday. Cast Activities is taking names now. For more information, call Tony or Mary Mars, evenings at 425-6090.

SO YOU WANT TO BE A LIFEGUARD ...

Have you always dreamed of being a lifeguard for the summer? Well, here's your chance. Advanced Lifesaving classes begin February 23 at the Contemporary Marina, thanks to the folks in Resort Training. Scheduled to run four weeks, the class will meet Tuesday through Friday from 7 to 9 a.m. each morning, and don't forget that Advanced Lifesaving is required before you can transfer to any lifeguarding position. If you're interested or need more information, call Barbara at extension 5424.

SOFTBALL IS BACK

It may be cold up north, but last week saw the first regular games take place on our Admin ballfields with some interesting results which follow. All team captains and individual players are asked to continue to check the reader boards at the ballfields for new rule interpretations for this season, and also to call either 4500 or 824-2222 for information on game cancellations due to bad weather, in both cases one hour before the game.

All scores for the first week of regular play follow:

CAMPING FUN SCHEDULED

Attention campers — this is your last chance to sign up for the "camptown" weekend. This campground, located near St. Cloud offers beautiful lakeside sites sure to provide a relaxing weekend which may include use of their sauna or pool not to mention basking in the great Florida sunshine. Bring your boat for fishing and skiing at "camptown."

Members will have the traditional covered dish supper on Saturday followed by an old-fashioned game of softball! Scheduled for the last weekend in February — the 26th and 27th — the trip costs are $10 for one night and $19.20 for two (includes tax). Come to Cast Activities at The Center or Lake Buena Vista today to sign up.
